

Reinforcements, please apply with us as

Global Supply Chain Manager (m/f/d)

As the Kontron ODM/EMS Alliance, we are part of Kontron AG and currently represented in four European countries.

We specialize in electronics engineering and manufacturing services throughout Europe. With more than 650 employees and sales in the 3-digit million range, we are among the largest providers in Europe. Join our team and become part of the Alliance!

Your tasks

- › Develop and maintain a global forecast system to create and manage material demand push and pull actions to optimize Inventory levels and material supply
- › Help to develop an ideal supply chain set up e.g., using VMI program or central warehouse set ups to optimize inventory levels in house and at external contract manufacturer
- › Use the FC system to supply volume data to the global and local sourcing organization (lead buyers) during price negotiations
- › Working closely with the local demand planning teams to develop and maintain a system for demand creation and develop tools related to that
- › Help develop global lead buyers' program and in the definition of preferred suppliers
- › First level escalation for related manufacturers
- › Help develop and maintain a set of KPI's

Your profile

- › Years in experience in supply chain functions
- › Good knowledge of sourcing processes and of supplier relationship management
- › Good knowledge of overall tools in material planning
- › Great communications skills, fluent English, further languages would be an advantage
- › Good knowledge of MS Office (Outlook, Word, Excel, Access, Power point is required)
- › Good SAP knowledge
- › Hands on mentality
- › Readiness to travel

Your benefits

- › Secure permanent position in an economically strong company
- › Innovative and future-oriented working environment with high personal responsibility and exciting challenges
- › Creative freedom and opportunities for further professional development
- › Home office
- › Open corporate culture

Have we piqued your interest in our company? Ms. Claudia Lenz is looking forward to receiving your detailed application inclusive photo to karriere@snt.at